Director of International Relations - Sindicato Nacional dos Aeronautas (SNA)

SIPLAP, representing the majority of LATAM Peru pilots and serving as IFALPA's representatives in our country, wishes to express its full solidarity and support to the pilots and aviation professionals represented by the Sindicato Nacional dos Aeronautas (SNA) during this critical moment for civil aviation in Brazil.

We recognize the concerns raised regarding legislative measures and operational conditions that may affect flight safety, fatigue management, and crew wellbeing. Safe operations depend on properly protected, adequately rested, and fairly regulated aviation professionals.

SIPLAP also expresses its concern regarding any initiative that would allow cabotage operations by foreign crews, as such measures may weaken labor protections, generate regulatory imbalances, and negatively impact the long-term stability and safety oversight of the national aviation system.

We support the efforts of SNA in advocating for responsible aviation policies that preserve operational safety standards and protect the health and working conditions of flight crews.

Please know that our association stands in unity with your members and with all aviation professionals working to defend safe and sustainable aviation operations.

In unity,

Ronald Viñas Maichle
