Request for Mutual Assistance – SNA Brazil “For the Right to Fly Safely - Against the Collapse of the Brazilian Air Transport System”

Dear Colleagues,

On behalf of the Irish Air Line Pilots’ Association (IALPA), we extend our full solidarity and support to the pilots and aviation professionals represented by SNA in your campaign advocating for the right to fly safely and for the protection of Brazil’s civil aviation system.

IALPA has been made aware of the serious concerns raised regarding the advancement of legislative proposals that may impact professional standards, crew welfare, and the long term sustainability of safe aviation operations in Brazil. In particular, concerns relating to increasing fatigue exposure, regulatory uncertainty, and deteriorating working conditions are matters of significant importance to the global pilot community.

IALPA supports SNA’s efforts to engage constructively with the relevant authorities in pursuit of policies that protect flight safety, uphold professional standards, and recognise the unique physiological and operational demands placed upon aviation crews.

Should you need any assistance from IALPA, please contact Captain Nicola Hughes, IALPA, International Director at international@ialpa.net

Together, we are stronger and together we will ensure that the rights and interests of all pilots are upheld and respected.

In Unity,

Captain
International Director
Irish Air Line Pilots’ Association
